HISTORY

It is hoped that inputs at the National Defence College would enable one to get a wider vision of thought and proper coordination of minds which are essential at any position of responsibility and leadership. A country without the wider vision cannot function as a topclass country. It is not merely expert knowledge in each individual field, but the coordination of knowledges which helps in understanding of the world and its future. This is the vision that the institution must strive for. "

- Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru

(during his inaugural speech on 27 Apr 1960)

1.1. The National Defence College (NDC) located at New Delhi, is India's apex institution of learning for the study and practice of National Security and Strategy. Established in 1960 it has over the years earned a reputation for excellence and gained world renown. It is dedicated to the intellectual development and strategic enculturation of selected senior officers of the armed forces and civilian government services of India and those from foreign countries, for higher leadership positions and responsibilities.

1.2. After Independence, when the higher defence organization of the country was being reviewed, a need was felt for a larger number of officers trained to tenet higher appointments in the growing armed forces of a nascent but proud nation. In 1956, the Estimates Committee of Parliament recommended setting up of an institution on the Lines of the Imperial War College, UK where senior officers of the Defence Forces used to be sent for higher training. The armed forces found an enthusiastic support from Prime Minister, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. He realised that strategic thinking was not an inborn talent but that can be learnt, cultivated and practiced. He understood the importance of formal learning, work experience, dialogue and co-ordination between intuition and analytical thinking, for developing a class of strategic thinkers who would take the lead in nation building and national security. He encouraged the idea of establishing a higher institute of learning for officers from all the branches of the government including military, bureaucracy, think-tanks, strategic establishment & industries.

1.3. Eventually the proposal to establish the NDC was approved by the Defence Committee of the Cabinet on 06 May 1959 followed by the formal orders by the Minister of Defence on 15 September 1959 and the NDC was established on 27 April 1960. The directive stated, "the sanction of the President is accorded for setting up of a National Defence College in India for providing instruction to senior service and civil officers in the wider aspect of higher direction and strategy of warfare". NDC was formally inaugurated by Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. While inaugurating the College on 27 April 1960 he said,

"...Defence itself is not an isolated subject. It is intimately connected with the economic aspects, industrial aspects, and many other aspects in the country ...India today has become positively and actively defence-conscious, more than at any time since independence. Our desire is to continue to live peacefully and co-operatively with all our neighbours. Nevertheless, no defence apparatus can exist in a purely idealistic way. It has to be very realistic and remain prepared for any emergency. National Defence College has become a positive necessity to meet defence problems as they are likely to be in the future."

1.4. Keeping in mind the situation and security environment prevailing at that time, Pandit Nehru, the great visionary that he was, outlined the importance of a broader defence strategy. He stressed this as a necessity to meet new dangers of "continuing nature" on India's frontier. Realising the importance of effective coordination between the defence services and the economic, industrial, administrative and foreign policies of any state, he emphasised that the College had to develop a broader outlook and understanding, which should translate into a more holistic strategy. Lt General K Bahadur Singh was appointed as the first Commandant of the College. In 1973, NDC was placed directly under the Ministry of Defence.

1.5. Since its inception, the College has trained 3999 officers. The inaugural course in 1960 had 21 Course Members, which over a period of time has risen to 100 Course Members since 2008. From NDC 61st course the course strength is all set to increase to 110 Course Members which will further go up to 120 from the NDC 62nd course. In the last 60 years so far 69 countries have been represented at the NDC.

SECTION - 2

AIM AND ROLE

Aim

2.1. To equip future policy makers with the background necessary for a broad understanding of the varied social, economic, political, military, scientific and organisational aspects involved in the planning of National Strategy.

Ends and the Role

2.2. The NDC mission statement is - 'Fostering National Security and Strategic Leadership'. The role of NDC thus is:-

- (a) To provide a facility to bring together selected senior officers from various organisations of the Government of India and selected foreign countries for the purpose of giving them a structured exposure to diverse issues related to national security of a modern state, in general, and India, in particular.
- (b) To facilitate individual development of selected senior officers of the Indian and Foreign Armed Forces, Indian Civil Services, and other selected organisations nominated for the Course at the NDC by providing the necessary academic environment related to national security issues.
- (c) To develop a thorough and lasting mutual understanding between different organisations of the Government of India and selected foreign countries by creating the necessary working environment and opportunities for development of such understanding between officers undergoing the Course at NDC.
- (d) To be an instrument of the Government of India to foster better understanding, mutual co-operation and desirable linkages in the national, regional and international security related fields with select foreign countries.

2.3. The College seeks to achieve this by retaining its distinct Indian character while staying abreast and adapting continuously to the changing world. It provides a research based intellectual environment for experiential learning and strategic enculturation.

2.4. The desired outcome for the participants of the National Security and Strategy course is to achieve a holistic understanding and knowledge of matters related to national security in an international context for strategy development, policy formulation and implementation. It seeks to hone analytical skills and the vision to assume higher responsibilities at the strategic leadership levels; forge and build enduring bridges of friendship and co-operation across domains, organisations and countries.

The Ways

2.5. The three defining characteristics which makes NDC unique are Chatham House Rules, non-gradation of performance and a level playing field. Course officers are known as "members", as after graduating they have an association with NDC for life. During the course all members, irrespective of rank, seniority and position, address each other strictly by their individual first names. Also, service uniforms are not worn, except for special occasions, to deliberately break individual distinctions, and underscore the fact that all members are equals at the College. This egalitarian approach creates a convivial atmosphere that allows a free and frank exchange of knowledge, while building mutual respect, trust, faith and friendship.

2.6. The personal qualities, skills and breadth of experience of the members are therefore a vital feature of the collective learning process during the Course which provides the opportunity to learn from one another. Every course drawn from the variety of services, organisations and the large number countries, brings together an immense resource pool of knowledge, skills and experience. This creates a conducive environment where members are encouraged to challenge their own assumptions, opening their minds to new and often contrary perspectives. The College believes in providing an alternative to the structured, hierarchical and organisational group-think culture, by nurturing original and innovative points of view, ideas and thoughts. Members are also encouraged towards strategic self-development, critical reflection and analytical skills. To enable all this, members are expected to always conduct themselves in a manner which is consistently polite, respectful, engaged and empathetic, and which never makes a colleague feel uncomfortable or offended. This is the NDC Way.

The Means

2.7. NDC employs a variety of incremental and layered, active and passive educational enablers. These include preparatory reading, single and panel guest lectures, SDS mentored Integrated Analysis Group discussions, seminars, central discussions, member led studies and presentations, collaborative work, study tours and visits, case studies, practical exposure, strategic game exercises, agile strategic analysis tasks and a variety of formal written work. Active interaction of members with the Commandant, SDS, adjunct faculty, Madras University professors, visiting subject matter experts, and other College staff is strongly encouraged. So too is self-directed learning, research and reflection, which is fundamental to making the most of the NDC experience. Additionally, the College also offers many other routes through which a member may further enrich their individual development. These include arrangements with Think Tanks where members can access their resources, interact and attend talks and seminars.

2.8. Looking beyond the central course curriculum opens members and their families to a wide variety of social, cultural and sporting events that makes the NDC experience far deeper and broader. Members are very much encouraged to take the initiative in setting up their own educational and recreational endeavours alongside College activities. Given that most members come to NDC from hectic and professional assignments and responsibilities in the respective Services and organisations, the Course provides an excellent opportunity to pause, reflect, recharge and grow, in the whistle-stop journey of life.

SECTION - 3

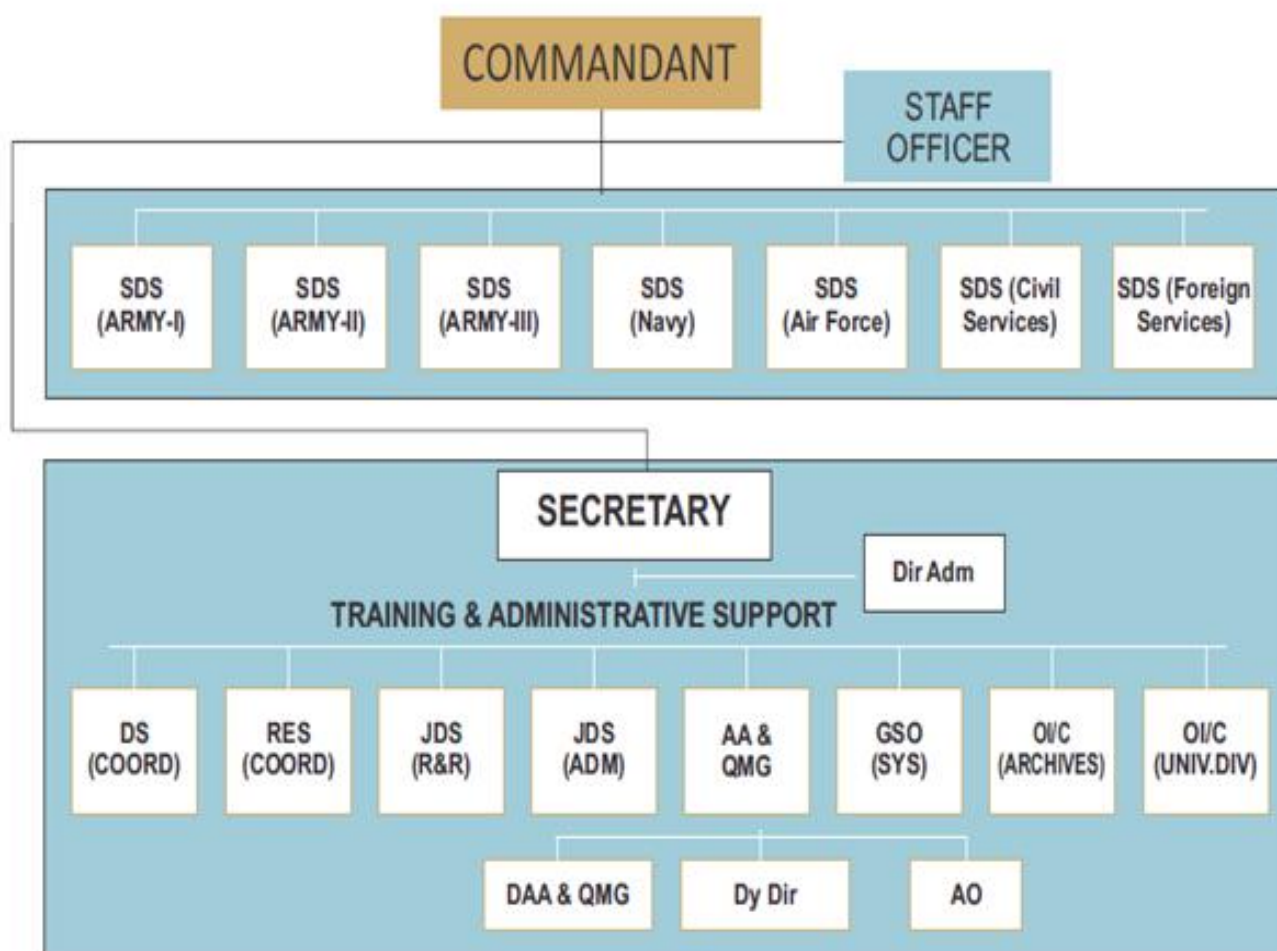

COLLEGE ORGANISATION

Command and Control

3.1. The NDC function directly under the Ministry of Defence. The NDC is an Autonomous Organisation reporting to the Raksha Mantri through the Defence Secretary. For local administrative control, the College comes under the Headquarters (HQ) Delhi Area.

Organisation

3.2. The NDC is headed by the Commandant, who is assisted by the Faculty which includes the Senior Directing Staff (SDS) to handle the training affairs. The administrative structure at the NDC is headed by the College Secretary. The organisation chart of NDC College is as under:-

The College Crest

3.3. At NDC, officers from the Defence and Civil Services upgrade their knowledge from the mechanics of soldiering and administration to the level of conception of strategic ideas in the spheres of military, socio-political, economic and scientific fields. It was imperative that the crest had to integrate the significance of the efforts of these groups of hard working men and women. It was needed to serve as a symbol to represent the identity of NDC, and communicate its ethos and core values. The historical section of the Ministry of Defence was the first organisation to request a Crest for the College and worked on many concepts and forwarded a series of suggestions for its design along with paintings of proposed crests.

3.4. The approved design is that of the Lamp of Knowledge surrounded by the wreath of green Ashoka tree leaves with a superimposed Lions of Ashoka pillar. The motif of the crest printed on the cover is a 'Diya' – a traditional Indian lamp with four flames. The Diya symbolises the lamp of learning and the four flames represent the four main categories of scholars at the NDC, i.e. officers from the three wings of the Armed Forces and from the Civil Services, who undergo the training at the NDC. Below the crest is the College Motto.

College Motto & Flag

3.5. Motto. The College Motto in Sanskrit is “बुद्धिर्यस्य बलतस्य” (Buddhiryasya Balam Tasya) a quotation from the Hitopadesa (2.122), a 12th Century work by Narayana written for students. It is difficult to translate this Sanskrit phrase into English as both “बुद्धिर्यस्य” and “बलतस्य” have several connotations. However, the closest English translation means “One who acquires knowledge and wisdom acquires strength.”

3.6. Flag. Being an Inter-Services Defence institution, the College flag comprises of maroon colour base with the College crest in the centre. The same motif is used on the formation sign and car flag.

SECTION - 4FACULTY AND STAFF*Faculty

4.1. The Commandant of the NDC is a three star General and is of the rank of Lieutenant General/ Air Marshal/ Vice Admiral. He is drawn from the three wings of the Defence Forces in rotation. Air Marshal D Choudhury, AVSM VM VSM is the present Commandant of the NDC.

4.2. The Faculty consists of seven officers of the rank of Major General or equivalent (two star) from the Army, Navy, Air Force and one each the Civil and Foreign Services. The College also from time to time has adjunct faculty member. The present incumbents are as follows:-

SECTION - 6

TRAINING

General

6.1. The College conducts a 47 week course every year on “National Security and Strategic Studies”. The 61st NDC Course will commence on 01 Feb 2021 and will conclude on 26 Nov 2021.

Course Curriculum

6.2. Course Curriculum comprises of Six Study modules divided into two terms, apart from gaming exercises, strategic leadership capsule, media capsule, and a seminar. The course schedule is promulgated through annual block calendar and weekly training programmes, which are issued periodically. The six modules are as follows:-

- (a) Understanding India and Introduction to Strategy.
- (b) Economic Security and Science and Technology.
- (c) International Security Environment.
- (d) Study on Global Issues.
- (e) India's Strategic Neighbourhood.
- (f) Strategies and Structures for National Security.

A brief outline of each study is given in Appx ‘A’

6.3. Strategic Gaming Exercise. Normally two SGEs are conducted during the course. SGE-1 is usually conducted on completion of economic security and science & technology module and the scope includes social, political and economic issues. SGE-2 is conducted during the last module and the scope includes issues of international security environment, immediate neighbourhood and national strategy.

6.4. NDC Seminar. The College conducts a one day seminar annually in the second week of July where in the Course Members analyse and present a current strategic issue. These presentations are subsequently published as a paper in the seminar journal.

6.5. Media Capsule. Today's world being the age of information and technology, the modern day policy makers of the nation should know how to engage with media well and undertake strategic communication. Keeping this outcome in mind, a short capsule for two days is conducted during “India's Strategic Neighbourhood Study”. In this, a reputed media house and professional journalists are brought in as mentors who mentor the Course Members on various aspects of media including social media platforms.

6.6. Strategic Leadership Capsule. A two days strategic leadership capsule is conducted on various aspects of leadership including emerging concepts, decision making, inspiring leadership lessons, case studies etc. This is done with a purpose to instil strategic culture and highlight leadership aspects to the course.

6.7. Agile Strategic Analysis Task (ASAT). During the eleven month period of the course, there are likely to be major events which will have a significant impact on the world's/ nation's future. These events provide an opportunity for the Course Members to critically examine the event and analyse it from a national/ international strategic perspective. These are done by the respective IAG groups through discussions or written work, with the aim to enable each member to carry out a self appraisal, of the strategic analysis of the occurrence, or event, and its subsequent outcome.

Conduct and Methodology

6.8. Course encompasses Six Study modules each spanning between 5 to 10 weeks with lectures/ talks/ panel discussions. Basic guidelines for conduct of each of the six study modules are as under: -

- (a) Study starts with identification of issues for study and formulation of Study setting. Detailed background/ structure for study, objectives and various issues for consideration are given out for each study module, through the study booklet.
- (b) Course Members are divided into seven Integrated Analysis Groups (IAGs) of 15-16 Course Members for each study for the purpose of analysis, discussion and presentations under the guidance of a SDS. These groups are finalised based on certain basic pre-requisites such as the opportunity to work in different teams, requirement of a specialist/ subject expert in the group, etc.
 - (i) One member from each IAG is nominated as Coordinating Chairperson who is responsible for overall working of the IAG, for duration of the study module.
 - (ii) Each IAG has three sub-groups that evolve a paper and give separate presentations on the topic assigned in the study. Three members are nominated as Chairpersons (one from each sub-group).
 - (iii) IAGs are briefed by the SDS-in-charge on scope & structure of the study. Thereafter, Chairpersons and Coordinating Chairperson are responsible to work/ refer and interact to evolve the paper on topic assigned. They are also to draw out a schedule of meetings/discussions with concurrence of SDS-in-charge in the IAG Room.
 - (iv) Co-ordinating Chairperson will be responsible for coordinating all IAG work as given in the weekly training programme. No absence from IAG meetings will be permitted unless authorised by the respective SDS.
 - (v) The final IAG paper is to be submitted to DS (Coord) within seven days of completion of Central Discussion, duly vetted by SDS-in-charge of IAG. In case of any correction suggested by the SDS-in-charge, the same is to be corrected and put up within due date.
 - (vi) Co-ordinating Chairperson and Chairpersons are changed in every study so that each course member tenants the role at least once during the course.
- (c) Based on topics of each subgroup, talks/ panel discussions are organised/ coordinated for exposure to views of subject matter experts on the issues identified.
- (d) With the inputs received, interactions with subject matter experts, references from the library and free-frank discussion & open interaction within IAGs under the guidance of SDS, a paper (3000-4000 words) is evolved on the issues in focus during the study. Apart from this paper each Course Member is required to submit an essay paper of 1000 words each. Finally, at the end of each study module, each IAG presents their respective paper to the College which is followed by a Central Discussion.

6.9. IAG Papers and Publication. The recommended IAG papers of a study are compiled into NDC journal “Kuutneeti” and also uploaded on the website.

Lectures and Panel Discussions

6.10. The College has an impressive list of visiting faculty/ subject matter experts and eminent persons from all spheres of activities related to national and international security issues. Lectures/ presentations/ panel discussions etc by the visiting faculty are the most important part of training at the College.

(a) Lectures. Lectures by the visiting faculty are organised on topics related to National Security Studies and are focussed on issues identified for discussion during the ongoing study. The lectures are of one hour duration followed by a detailed question and answer session. Course Members get to interact freely with the Speaker during the tea break and during lunch, which is part of the daily routine at the College.

(b) Panel Discussions. On issues involving many view points, the College invites visiting faculty for a Panel Discussion by two or more experts. One of the panellists is requested to moderate the discussion, which is of approximately 90 minutes duration. The Panel Discussion is also followed by a question & answer session.

(c) Opportunity Talks. Opportunity talks by visiting distinguished personalities from within the country and abroad are often organised at the College. Visiting heads of States, Senior Military Officials and Ministers from foreign countries usually deliver such opportunity talks. Question & answer session and free interaction follows, depending on time available with the visiting dignitary. Apart from this, Course Members with expertise in a particular field may also volunteer to speak on subjects of their choice. Topics are to be cleared by the SDS and talk is scheduled in the training programme.

6.11. Individual Work. In addition to work done as part of IAGs, each Course Member is required to carry out following individual work:-

(a) Thesis Writing. Each course member is required to write a thesis of length not exceeding 12,000 words on any topic related to National Security. The topic is selected after a mutual interaction between the Course Members and the Faculty and finally allotted by the College. The topics suggested by the College are based on inputs received from various government departments/ ministries to which the relevant theses are sent at the end of the course. The short listed topics for 2021 would be available on the NDC website and can be accessed at www.ndc.nic.in. The Course Members of the 61st course could accordingly come prepared for interaction with faculty.

(b) Country Presentations. Foreign Course Members are required to carry out a Country presentation about their own Country for a duration of 30 minutes. This may include a focus on history, geography, political set up, industries, economy, defence and relations with India. Video and photographs could also be included in the presentation. Sponsor officers from India would assist the Foreign Course Members in these presentations. Spouses of Course Members also attend this presentation, which is usually followed by high tea hosted by the foreign members making the presentation.

Miscellaneous

6.12. Certain miscellaneous aspects of training which merit attention are given below :-

- (a) Name tabs are to be worn during working hours and while on official tours/ visits and also during social functions. Name tabs are worn during social functions by the spouses too. The name tabs will be issued by the College.
- (b) Course Members are required to provide their feedback on the talk of the day within 24 hours. This feedback is of significance as it has a direct bearing on the process of shortlisting speakers for future courses.
- (c) Course Members are to give a study feed back to the DS (Coord) at the end of each study through their Chairpersons duly vetted by the SDS.
- (d) Recording devices (audio or video), mobile phones, cameras, laptops/ tablets and brief cases are strictly not allowed inside the lecture hall. Chatham House rules are to be followed in letter & spirit.
- (e) Adequate stationery will be made available to each Course Member. However, environment friendly policies at the College dictate a progressively reduced use of paper and increasing use of IT.
- (f) Foreign Course Members will also wear name tabs on uniforms in case they do not wear these as part of their normal uniform.

SECTION - 8TOURS*Nature and Scope

8.1. Tours are aimed at giving a first-hand feel of ground conditions with regard to the various issues discussed during the course of relevant studies. These usually follow a "top down" process, with visits and discussions commencing at the highest levels and going down to junior levels covering various dimensions of the issues considered.

8.2. The Tours planned for NDC 61st Course are as under:-

- (a) Understanding India and Economic Security Study Tour (UI & ESST).
- (b) Foreign Countries Study Tour (FCST).
- (c) Foreign Officers Study Tour (FOST).
- (d) Strategic Neighbourhood Study Tour (SNST).
- (e) Army and Air Force Tour.
- (f) Naval Tour.

Understanding India and Economic Security Study Tour (UI & ESST)

8.3. This is the first tour of the course, undertaken as part of first two study modules. It is of one week duration and is scheduled in Apr 2021 in seven groups. It will provide an opportunity to the participants to visit various states and examine socio political, cultural and religious aspects first hand. Problems of administration, governance and enforcing law and order at state level and down to village level can be understood in a better perspective. Also, the tour enables participants to visit both public and private sector industries to get a general feel of the industrial development in the country and acquaint themselves with local view points on various economic and developmental issues. The problems of infrastructure growth, scientific and environmental issues and functioning of financial institutions can be well appreciated during this tour. The groups usually call on the Governors, Chief Ministers, senior government officers as well as grass root level officials to understand the challenges faced by them.

Foreign Countries Study Tour (FCST)

8.4. This tour is of two weeks duration with two countries being covered by each of the seven integrated groups of the course. For the NDC 61st Course, it is planned in Jun 2021. This gives an opportunity to the participants to meet with high ranking officers, both civil and military and visit military, industrial, administrative and financial establishments in the countries visited. The exchange of views helps development of closer understanding and cordial relations with the countries visited.

Foreign Officers Study Tour (FOST)

8.5. This tour would be organised in Jul 2021 and is for Foreign Course Members only. They will be visiting premier defence training establishments like the National Defence Academy, Defence Services Staff College, Air Force Academy and so on, as also important Research and Development Establishments and Defence Industries. The aim is to provide the Foreign Course Members an exposure to training facilities of Indian Defence Forces, and also to the Defence Technological capabilities in India.

Strategic Neighbourhood Study Tour

8.6. Strategic Neighbourhood tour of three days duration to certain neighbouring countries and extended friendly neighbouring countries has also been planned in Sep 2021 to coincide with the study on India's Strategic Neighbourhood.

Army and Air Force Tour

8.7. This tour (combined) is scheduled in Oct 2021 in seven groups. Each group visit an airbase, where they would be provided with a brief on the Station Administration, Operations & Maintenance. Selected Course Members are provided air experience in service aircraft. Also, the Course Members are conducted to forward areas of India to get first-hand knowledge of the challenges faced by the forces deployed, their perception of the security environment and get a feel of the operating conditions.

Naval Tour

8.8. This is of five days duration and has been scheduled in Oct 2021 to Naval establishments and includes witnessing a demonstration of manoeuvres at sea. The course is divided into eight to ten smaller groups corresponding to the number of Indian Naval Ships participating in the exercise. These groups spend a day and a night on board the Naval Ships. The tour also includes visits to a number of on-shore establishments.

Local Visits

8.9. Each year, the NDC Course visits Rashtrapati Bhawan for a 'Call On' and a Course photograph with the Hon'ble President of India. Spouses of the Course Members also accompany them to Rashtrapati Bhawan. This generally is in the month of November. A number of local visits are also organised for the course during the year. These include visits to cultural centres in and around Delhi as also a tour of the city.

Tour Presentations and Reports

8.10. One of the Course Member is designated as the Tour/ Group Co-ordinator of each of the groups proceeding on tours. Apart from many other responsibilities, he co-ordinates a presentation on the tour, as also submission of a detailed report within a week of return from the tour. Sample tour reports are available in training section for reference.

Note:- Tours would be conducted in accordance with existing/ prevailing Government of India's notifications with respect to restrictions on travel due to COVID-19.

- (b) Countersigning of TA/ DA claims under rule 8, Travel Regulations and other miscellaneous claims.

(c) Sanction of road mileage allowance at higher rates under Rule 177, Travel Regulation.

12.14. Late Arrivals. As a matter of principle, no late comers are encouraged on the course. However, in very exceptional cases, officers joining within two weeks of the course on National Security and Strategic Studies will be permitted, based on the merits of each case. No member is permitted to join later than two weeks after the commencement of the course.

12.15. Absence from Course. During the 47 weeks of the National Security and Strategic Studies Course, maximum of upto three weeks absence to include late arrival, compassionate leave or hospitalization is permitted. Any absence beyond three weeks will involve removal from the course or staying back at the College during the mid-term break or the period of field tours, for research and written assignments, so as to make good the lost periods. This would be decided on the merit of each individual case.

Accommodation

12.16. General. Indian Armed Forces Members nominated for the 61st National Security and Strategic Studies Course and posted at Delhi at the time of nomination will continue to retain their accommodation. The College will arrange accommodation for officers arriving for the course from out stations only. In this connection, the course officers are required to fill accommodation form, available online on NDC portal, and forward it to the College. Officers will be allotted accommodation in Raksha Bhawan & at Vikram Vihar and can take over the accommodation from 23 Jan 2021 onwards from reception cell being organised at Raksha Bhawan & Vikram Vihar. The status of the allotment of accommodation may be ascertained from the following officers:-

- (a) AA&QMG - Tel: 2301 1994
Fax: 2301 3429
- (b) DAA & QMG- Tel: 23793158

12.17. Single Accommodation. No single accommodation is available with the College. Indian officers planning to stay single during the entire duration of the course are required to make arrangements for single accommodation through their respective Service HQs Mess in Delhi. Details may be intimated to the College on relevant forms. The College has not been allotted any single accommodation by CAO and as such no correspondence on this be made with the College.

12.18. Married Accommodation. The College has a residential complex of 43 flats called 'Raksha Bhawan'. NDC is treated as separate 'station' within Delhi for the purposes of married accommodation and has control over Raksha Bhawan and 23 number of additional flats located in Vikram Vihar. The allotment is carried out in accordance with laid down procedure by the Secretary, who is also the Station Commander of the NDC for the purpose. A few issues regarding NDC pool accommodation are as under:-

- (a) Officers Posted to Delhi. Officers detailed for the course from units in Delhi will not be allotted accommodation by NDC. They should apply to the CAO/ allotting authority for retention of defence/ general pool accommodation. However officers who are staying in Officers Mess/ temporary accommodation/ appointment house alongwith family may apply for the same for the duration of the course.
- (b) Occupation. NDC pool accommodation will be available for occupation only 28 Jan 2021 onwards prior to the commencement of the course.

(c) Attachment of Buddy/ Non Combatants in NDC. There is no provision for attachment of Buddy or Non Combatants to NDC as NDC does not hold any OTM accommodation for troops. Buddies are to be attached to respective Service HQs Camp by the officers as per their rules. Indian Army Officers can bring their Buddies with their baggage to help in settling down. Only one buddy is permitted with the Course Member in accordance with existing instructions. Buddies are not permitted to stay in Raksha Bhawan complex either in officers' houses or in the out-houses. All buddies with Indian Army Officers will be attached to Army Headquarters Camp for administration & discipline. NCEs/ retinue staff in case of Air Force/ Naval Officers is to be attached with 412 AF Station, New Delhi and INS India respectively as per their service procedures. No married/ OTM accn is available with the College for buddies. Officers are required to make their own arrangements for accommodation of their buddies.

(d) Vacation. The accommodation allotted by the NDC to the Course Members is required to be vacated within seven days of completion of course i.e. 03 Dec 2021. Since the accommodation is required to be prepared for the next course, retention of NDC pool accommodation on any ground is not permitted. Shifting to alternative accommodation is co-ordinated with the Chief Administrative Officer, Ministry of Defence.

Note:- Retention is not permitted on any grounds; be it educational or medical. Officer are requested to timely tie up their move to alternate accommodation on termination of the course

12.19. Accommodation for Foreign Course Members under Indian Technical and Economic Cooperation (ITEC)/ Special Aid Programme (SAP). Fully furnished accommodation will be provided to officers nominated under ITEC/ SAP of Ministry of External Affairs, Government of India at Raksha Bhawan.

12.20. Accommodation for Foreign Course Members under Self Finance Scheme (SFS) / Reciprocal Arrangements. This is required to be arranged for by their respective Diplomatic Missions in Delhi.

12.21. Accommodation for Civil Services Officers. As per JS (AD) & CAO Accommodation Rules for Service Officers dated 15 July 1991, accommodation in Raksha Bhawan/ Vikram Vihar can only be provided to Army/ Navy/ Air Force officers. No accommodation can be provided to civilian officers in Raksha Bhawan/ Vikram Vihar. Officers would need to make arrangement for their own accommodation.

12.22. Fixation of Seniority for Accommodation in Delhi CAO Post Termination of Course. All Indian Armed Forces officers will get one year seniority from the date of joining till termination of course and interse. Seniority for accommodation in Delhi in CAO post termination of course will be fixed by draw of lots within the course.

Leave Rules

12.23. Absence from the College is regulated as under:-

- (a) Attendance is obligatory for all training events, tours, visits and organised social functions.
- (b) Members unable to attend the College due to illness will ensure that the SDS, Secretary, DS (Coord) & AA&QMG are informed as soon as possible.

(c) Course Members desirous of availing leave would need to apply in the prescribed online leave application form and submit online from respective login id to the AA&QMG, who will then process the leave. The sanctioning authority for leave in respect of the Course Members is as given below: -

- | | | |
|------------------------------------|---|---------------------|
| (i) Army Course Members | - | SDS (Army-I/II/III) |
| (ii) Naval Course Members | - | SDS (Navy) |
| (iii) Air Force Course Members | - | SDS (Air) |
| (iv) Civil Services Course Members | - | SDS (CS) |
| (v) Foreign Course Members | - | SDS (FS) |

(d) As a matter of policy, no leave will be granted during the course unless considered absolutely inescapable.

(e) Foreign Course Members desirous of leaving Delhi on leave should obtain written approval of their respective Embassies/ High Commissions before submitting the leave application to AA&QMG, separately on each occasion.

(f) Leave ex-India in respect of all the Course Members will be sanctioned by Commandant, NDC.

(g) Course Members desirous of going out for short periods during College working hours would need to seek permission from their respective SDS, and would need to inform the DS (Coord), Secretary & AA&QMG at least one working day prior. However, such absence should be an exception and for unavoidable reasons only. Course Members are requested to avoid absence during lecture hours.

(h) Any overnight outstation visit, including over a weekend requires prior casual leave sanction.

Accounts

12.24. Fixation of Pay and Allowances. Officers nominated for the NDC will continue to draw their pay and allowances from their respective department/ pay and allowance offices. Salient aspects of Pay and Allowances are given in succeeding paras.

12.25. Indian Defence Forces Officers. Pay and allowances for Indian Defence Services Course Members will be provided by the following authorities:-

- | | | |
|----------------------|---|-------------------------------|
| (a) Army | - | CDA (O), Pune. |
| (b) Navy | - | INS India. |
| (c) Air Force | - | Air Force Station, New Delhi. |

12.26. Civilian Officers. Civil Services Officers will continue to draw their Pay and Allowances from their previous station of posting.

12.27. ITEC/ SAP Scheme Officers. Living allowance under the ITEC/ SAP will be organised and paid by the Administrative Office at the College. The living allowance is a fixed allowance and currently paid at the rate of Rs. 1,200/- per day. There is initial delay of approx two months in payment of the living allowance, thus the officers under ITEC/ SAP are requested to bring adequate money to cater for initial three months of the Course.

12.28. Advances/ Loans. Commandant, NDC is the sanctioning authority for various advances from DSOP, etc. Applications may be processed through the College Secretariat for Indian Officers.

Training Charges

12.29. Civil Services Officers. Training charges are payable by Indian Civil Services Officers nominated for the Course and who are not paid out of the Defence Services Estimates. The charges applicable for the 61st NDC Course are as under:-

(a)	Tuition fee	Rs. 2.10 lakhs.
(b)	Tour/ Travel charges, DA, etc for internal (within India) and External (Foreign Countries and Strategic Neighbourhood tours)	As per actual. (approx 20 lakhs)

12.30. Tuition fee is payable in advance by demand draft drawn in favour of 'Commandant, NDC, New Delhi'. (Officers nominated for the NDC Course are requested to take up with their Departments for payment of tuition fee in advance. Tour charges can either be deposited completely in NDC Public Fund or officers should get a budget support certificate).

Note:- Officers to get budget support certificate or allotment from their respective offices.

12.31 Foreign Officers under SFS. Training charges payable by foreign officers nominated under SFS of the Ministry of External Affairs are as under: -

- | | | |
|-----|---|---------------|
| (a) | Tuition fee | - US$ 22,000 |
| (b) | Tour Charges (internal and Foreign tours) | - US$ 25,000 |

12.32. Mode of payment of training charges by foreign officers under SFS Scheme is also the same as mentioned in Para 12.30 above. The advance amount collected for internal and foreign tours, as mentioned above, would cater for the six internal tours and two foreign countries tours undertaken by each foreign officer under SFS scheme. The expenditure based on actual will be cleared by NDC and a consolidated invoice given to the officers on course termination. Any surplus amount would be refunded to the Embassy of the officer and shortfall, if any, will have to be reimbursed to the College by the officer/ his Embassy on intimation by College.

12.33. Foreign officers will be treated at par with their India counterpart for the purpose of Travel and DA on internal and external tours. Any entitlements of such officers over and above the rates at par with Indian officers will require a letter from Embassy to enable the same to be disbursed by NDC from the advance of Tour charges kept with the College. However, in that case the Embassy will be responsible to bear the additional expenditure on tours beyond US$ 25,000. (The College under no circumstances can extend any credit to any course member).

Canteen Facilities

12.34. There is a Unit Run Canteen (URC) at Raksha Bhawan for providing canteen facilities to Course Members and Staff.

12.35. General instructions for these facilities are given below: -

- (a) Canteen facility can be availed through smart cards. Smart Cards for Indian Defence officers are issued by their respective units/ formations. Defence Services officers who have not been issued a smart card may apply for the same on arrival. Smart cards will be issued to Foreign Course Members by the College for use during course period from College CSD located at Raksha Bhawan Complex. The same is to be returned at the end of the Course.
- (b) The canteen offers no credit facilities.
- (c) All payments are to be made by debit/ credit card only.
- (d) Last two days of the month will be observed as closed days for stock taking.
- (e) NDC canteen will remain closed on Mondays/ gazetted holidays and observe half day on Sundays.
- (f) A suggestion book is available at the canteen.

Medical Facilities

12.36. Medical Cover & College Doctor. Armed Forces Medical Clinic provides medical cover to NDC. However, medicines and First Aid facilities are also available at the MI room of the College. The Medical Officer nominated for the course is also requested to be the honorary course doctor and medical adviser.

12.37. Defence Forces Officers and Foreign Officers under ITEC/ SAP Schemes. Armed Forces Clinic has the arrangement to take care of all minor medical aid requirements of the officers 24 hours a day throughout the duration of the course. In case of requirement of specialist care, Army Hospital (Research and Referral) and Base Hospital, Delhi Cantt will provide all the requisite care, where hospitalisation can be arranged. The Armed Forces Dental Centre will provide dental cover.

12.38. Civilian Officers. Medical facilities for civil service officers will be regulated by rules governed by their respective parent offices.

12.39. Foreign Officers under SFS. SFS officers will be dependent upon their respective Diplomatic Missions for requisite medical help.

Passport & Visa

12.40. Indian Officers. Indian Officers in possession of diplomatic/ official passport are requested to carry the same for the course. If the officer is in possession of ordinary passport in addition to diplomatic/ official passport they are required to deposit personal passports with the College. It is also recommended that their spouse should be in possession of a valid ordinary passport for accompanying the Course Member abroad should an occasion arise. Since preparation of a new passport would take about 30 to 45 days, one may apply and obtain an ordinary passport for the spouse at the earliest. It may be noted that NDC does not have any arrangement for preparation of ordinary passport either for the officer or his/ her spouse. Passport details are required to be given to NDC by end January 2021.

12.41. Foreign Officers. It is advised that foreign officers detailed to undergo NDC course be issued a diplomatic or official passport with multiple entry visa for India. It will facilitate to obtain visas for the officer while proceeding on Foreign Countries Tour and Strategic Neighbourhood Tour and during the stay in India. Passport holders other than diplomatic/ official passports may have to pay visa fee for official journeys (entry as well as transit) during foreign tours. It also avoids inconvenience relating to the registration formalities at the Foreigners Regional Registration Office, New Delhi. All foreign Course Members, on arrival, should give a photocopy of their passport and visa to the College Secretariat. The passport validity should be up to 31 Mar 2022 since Strategic Neighbourhood Tour to countries requires visas and countries have a requirement of passport validity of six months from date of travel to enable visa to be issued for travel.

General Guidelines for Foreign Course Members

12.42. Multiple Entry VISAs. Officers are advised to ensure that they are in possession of the following for themselves and their family members accompanying them:-

- (a) Assignment/Official/diplomatic passport with multiple entry visas.
- (b) Visa for stay in India up to 31 March 2022.

12.43. Immigration and Custom Check Formalities on Arrival. Each officer is advised to make himself familiar with the immigration and customs check formalities prior to his arrival in India. This can be easily checked and self familiarisation done by liaising with the Indian Embassy/ Missions issuing the visa. In addition the officers are advised to carry a courtesy letter for assistance on arrival in India, issued by the Indian Embassies/ Missions.

12.44. Foreign officers under SFS are advised not to carry large amount of cash on person while coming to India which is more than the authorised limits under Indian immigration rules. The training charges should be sent by draft through the respective Diplomatic Missions. Personal cash should be brought in as drafts or travellers cheques or credit cards.

12.45. The officer are advised to bring their household and any other electronic goods on "Transfer of Residence" (TR) basis and not under other provisions of the Baggage rules applicable to tourists. (i.e. "Tourist Baggage Re-Export (TBRE)" basis, as TBRE remains valid only for six months and no extension is permitted). For any further details/ guidance, the officer may like to contact the Indian Embassy/ High Commission in their country.

12.46. Registration. All Foreign officers and their family members holding Indian visas are required to register with the office of the Foreigners Regional Registration Officer (FRRO), East Block, No. 8 (2nd Level) RK Puram New Delhi . The registration is required to be done within 7 to 14 days of arrival in India depending on the Nationality of the officer. Delay in registration may cause charging of penalty by the Immigration authorities of the Government of India. This is an individual responsibility; however, the College will provide necessary assistance, if asked for. This formality cannot be waived under any circumstance. SECTION - 15

RAKSHIKA

15.1. 'RAKSHIKA' is the organisation of the wives of the Course Members and Faculty/ staff of the College. The wife of the Commandant NDC is the President Rakshika, while a lady nominated by the President Rakshika acts as Secretary Rakshika. Other assignments are taken up as required on voluntary basis for various social and welfare activities. Officer-in-Charge Rakshika is the Co-ordinating officer for Rakshika meetings and other events related to Rakshika.

Purpose of Rakshika

15.2. In consonance with the objectives of the NDC, Rakshika helps in creating the right social environment and opportunities for development of a lasting bond of mutual understanding and friendship between all members of NDC. This is carried out by way of organising get togethers for various purposes like social work, personality development, health awareness and knowing each other's culture etc. Rakshika also organises a number of social welfare activities in co-operation with various welfare organisations.

Rakshika Activities

15.3. For meeting the objectives of Rakshika, weekly visits to 'Prerna' are organised. Prerna is an emotional support group at the Army Hospital R&R for patients suffering from cancer.

15.4. To know each other better Rakshika ladies meet are conducted frequently. During the meets, the ladies organise games, entertainment programmes and interact with each other. Other than these meets, visits to places of interest in and around Delhi are also undertaken.

Rakshika Yearbook

15.5. A Rakshika Yearbook is printed as part of Rakshika activities, where the Course Members share their experiences, thoughts, talent to cherish their memories of stay at NDC.

SECTION - 16

A TYPICAL DAY AT NDC

Forenoon Session

16.1. The day at NDC starts with IAG meetings which are usually held from 0900 hrs to 1000 hrs, chaired by the SDS. The IAGs get together in their respective rooms to discuss / take stock of progress of analysis work that is assigned to various sub groups of the IAGs. The IAG Chairpersons along with Coordinating Chairpersons also carry out coordination of various activities scheduled for the day.

16.2. Post the IAG meeting, all the Course Members assemble in Kautilya Hall for the talk/ panel discussion by the guest speaker. The guest speaker arrives 15 minutes prior to the scheduled time and is received by the DS Coord, SDS-in-charge study and the Commandant who discuss the main issues likely to come up during the presentation/ lecture. The talk/ panel discussion generally commences at 1030 hrs. The talk is for one hour followed by tea/ coffee break of 30 minutes, after which there is a question & answer session of another one hour.

Lunch

16.3. The Course Members, Faculty and Staff along with the guest speaker proceed for lunch at 1300 hrs to the College Mess after a brief interaction over soup at the Hunt Lounge. During the interaction, the Course Members are free to interact with the speaker and further clarify any issues regarding the subject. The lunch may be Formal, Informal or Working depending on the speaker/ occasion.

Afternoon

16.4. In case of a talk scheduled in the post lunch session, talk commences at 1430h with tea/ coffee break for 15 minutes only (1530-1545 h) followed by one hour question & answer session. If no talks are scheduled in the afternoon session, the Course Members after lunch have time to visit library to work on individual thesis or presentations and / or the Admin office.

16.5. On some days, IAGs have their meetings that are either open discussions, or with guest speaker/ subject matter expert invited for interaction. Alternatively, the IAGs may visit the Ministries or departments concerned or any of the local think tank for interaction.

Evening

16.6. There are occasions when social events are conducted wherein the spouses are also invited. Some of these are Ice Breaking party, Rakshika night, Services social evening, etc.

Note:- A day at NDC is planned to ensure maximum utilization of the time and resources available with a view to achieving academic excellence while not compromising on administrative requirements and social commitments, so as to enrich the overall experience of the Course Members.
